GODS AND HEROES

2017-2018 SEASON

SEQUOIASYMPHONYORCHESTRA.COM

GODS AND HEROES

In 2017-2018 the Sequoia Symphony Orchestra celebrates its 58th season with some of the great characters whose stories have been immortalized in some of the most electrifying orchestral works. Whether from Shakespeare's plays, folklore, opera, Roman gods, or Mayan history, our selections highlight the outstanding musical settings and retellings of these well-known characters and their stories.

MASTERWORKS SERIES

OCTOBER 7, 2017

October Is for Lovers

Mendelssohn: Overture from "Midsummer Nights Dream"

Grieg: Piano Concerto in A minor (Jeffrey Biegel, piano)

Strauss: Don Juan

Prokofiev: Romeo and Juliet

October opens our season with a focus on some of the greatest love stories of stage and screen. Famous lovers from two of Shakespeare's plays share a program with that legendary lover, Don Juan. Grieg's romantic concerto is always an audience favorite.

NOVEMBER 11, 2017

Behind the Czar: Protest and Praise

Glinka: Ruslan and Ludmilla

Tchaikovsky: Serenade melancholique & Valse-scherzo (Adam Millstein, violin)

Prokofiev: Lieutenant Kije

Borodin: Polovtsian Dances from "Prince Igor"

November focuses on Russian politics with a visit from Prince Igor and the politically satirical Lieutenant Kije. Coupled with those are two charming and attractive shorter works by Tchaikovsky for violin and orchestra.

JANUARY 20, 2018

The Planets

Ravel: Piano Concerto in G major (Steven Lin, piano)

Holst: The Planets

January turns our attention skyward, specifically to the Roman gods and goddesses who inspired the names of the planets. Back by popular demand, Holst's The Planets is a true tour de force, a delightful trip through the solar system sure to cure your winter blues.

FEBRUARY 10, 2018

Movie Night: The Music of John Williams

Our traditional film music concert turns our attention to the best of the best: John Williams. His greatest music, new and old, will anchor what has become our most popular program.

MARCH 10, 2018

Historias con música

De Falla: Nights in the Gardens of Spain (Joana Gonzalez, piano)

Revueltas: Noches de las Mayas

Join us for a trip south of the border as we visit the Mayan Riviera. We share with you the ritualistic and distinct sounds of the Yucatán through the dazzling orchestration of "Noches de las Mayas."

APRIL 22, 2018

Beethoven 9

Mendelssohn: Violin Concerto (YuEun Kim, violin)

Beethoven: Symphony No. 9

Combined choirs join the SSO as we end the season by pulling out the stops of Beethoven's Symphony No. 9. The choral texts suggest themes of universal brotherhood and an all-inclusive human experience, which will be in full display as more than 160 musicians take the stage.

Concert: 3:00 P.M.
